

An Old Man to a Young Man.

What would I do if I were in your place and beginning life over again? Well, I wouldn't do a lot of things I have done. It wasn't worth while. What was the use? Is the question that bristles up on every year that I have lived. It sounds bad to ask, "Will it pay?" but it hurts an old man awfully to think how much didn't pay.

I'll tell you what I would do—I'd listen more to what Mary had to say. Young man, if ever you get married, keep your ear close to your wife's lips. It will not seem as nice as kissing her, but it will be a mighty sight better for you. And when she doesn't say anything, but looks serious, then listen harder than ever. You can down her arguments, but you can't talk the looks out of her eyes. Reading your wife's face is better than reading editorials in the newspapers. You will sleep sounder at night and be on better terms with yourself in the day time. Sweet Springs Herald.

Twenty-Seven Years Ago.

The following is taken from the first volume of the old Brownsville Herald in the year 1875:

GOD KNOWS ALL THE BEST.
"Now I lay," repeat it darling—
"Lay me," sped the tiny lips
Of my daughter kneeling, bending,
Over her folded finger tips.

"Down to sleep"—"To sleep," she murmured,
And the curly head bent low;
"I pray the Lord"—I gently added,
"You can say it all, I know."

"Pray the Lord"—the sound came faintly,
Fainter still—"My soul to keep."
Then the tired head fairly nodded,
And the child was fast asleep.

But the dewey eyes half opened,
When I clasped her to my breast,
And the dear voice softly whispered,
"Mummy, God knows all the rest."

Editor in a Cell.

George M. Ray, editor and publisher of the Shelbyville (Ind.) Daily Democrat, who entered upon a penitentiary sentence last Friday, will this week begin the editorial conduct of his newspaper as a convict in stripes, but with a firm determination to continue the same line of policy in his newspaper as that pursued prior to his conviction, and that was a bitter denunciation of his political foes, who, he charges, are responsible for his conviction on the charges of defrauding Shelby county on contract work.

Ray is under a determinate sentence of from two to fourteen years. He will labor on the contracts during the day, performing manual toil, while during the evening, or until lights are put out, he will prepare the editorial matter in the solitude of his cell.

Ray is an intimate friend of Governor Hill, of New York, whose nomination for the presidency the Shelbyville Democrat is foremost in advancing. Ex.
